

The Mount Olivet School of Music is pleased to announce new faculty member

Dennis Petersen, tenor

This is an exciting opportunity to study with and be coached by an active opera theatre professional and master teacher!

A performer of immense talent and style, Mr. Petersen's extensive career has led him to sing with numerous major opera houses and regional theatres, some of which are the Metropolitan Opera, New York City Opera, San Francisco Opera, Lyric Opera of Chicago, Opera Pacific, Florida Grand Opera, and Minnesota Opera.

Through his innate sense of style, command of languages, and superior acting abilities, tenor Dennis Petersen has distinguished himself in a variety of operatic roles. In addition to his extensive theatrical work, he has appeared in concerts, recitals, and oratorio performances throughout the country. He has sung under the direction of such conductors as, James Levine, Zubin Mehta, and Edo de Waart.

Mr. Petersen held the position of visiting professor, to great success, at the University of Iowa in Iowa City, Iowa. He has been featured as a clinician for Master Classes for many different levels of performers. His warm and personal manner, in addition to his extensive knowledge of the voice and the performing field, makes him an exceptional teacher and coach.

Dennis Petersen is currently accepting students for private voice lessons, repertoire coaching, vocal consultation, repertoire evaluation and master classes.
